Research

I am curious, open and anticipate to explore a wide range of topics in computer science.
In the years 2021-2023, my research interests span real-world confidential computing systems. More specifically, I focus on building secure and privacy-preserving systems that can be used in practice.
Recently, I have been focusing the intersection of deep learning [DL] and security&privacy [SP] , with a focus on safety and ethics issues in large language models (LLMs).
