Research

I delve into the intersection of deep learning [DL] (especially natural language processing) and security&privacy [SP] , with a focus on safety and ethics issues in large language models (LLMs). My concentration encompasses two primary areas:

- Investigating and Enhancing Trust in LLMs (60%). I investigate and address the inherent safety, ethics, and bias concerns present in LLMs. My ultimate goal is to develop strategies that mitigate these issues, contributing to the creation of more trustworthy AI systems that align with human values.
- Utilizing NLP in Public Discourse and Moderation (40%). I apply the advancements in NLP to analyze public opinions and to enhance content moderation. This involves leveraging cutting-edge language techniques to understand, interpret, and manage the vast array of information and viewpoints expressed in digital platforms.

My vision is to harness the power of AI and NLP to create safer, more ethical, and human-centric digital environments.
